ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A digital broadcast receiving apparatus which realizes reservation for print-outputting information. A digital broadcast program and the type of information provided in the program are set in advance, and at broadcast time of the program, the apparatus automatically starts and receives digital broadcast of the program. Information related to the set type is extracted (steps S601 to S603) from the received data, and the extracted information is print-outputted (step S604).